The Importance of Being Earnest

By Oscar Wilde

Characters Needed:

- *Algernon Moncrieff- (25-30ish) charming bachelor, idle, well-dressed
- *Jack Worthing- (28-35ish) responsible, respectable young man
- *Gwendolyn Fairfax- (20ish) sophisticated, intellectual
- *Cecily Cardew- (20ish) Jack's naïve ward; loves Jack's imaginary brother "Earnest"
- *Lady Bracknell- (50ish) snobbish, domineering aunt to Algernon
- *Miss Prism- (50ish) Cecily's governess, speaks in cliché, serious, rigid
- *Dr. Chasuble- (50ish) vicar on Jack's estate, proper, cheery
- *Lane-(40-60ish) manservant to Algernon, loyal, smart, dry wit
- *Merriman- (40-60ish) butler at Jack Worthing's country estate
